SUNSET—Rich, golden amber, shaded with ruddy copper in harmony with its name. Finely formed buds and large flowers blooming freely and exquisitely perfumed.

PRESIDENT

Chas. C. Leedle has been a flower fancier and grower from his youth, and from the standpoint of a connoisseur, his judgment in matters floral places him logically upon the side occupied by our customers in every question of policy arising for consideration.

A private conservatory was a necessary adjunct to the first home owned by him, and during a lifetime residence in Springfield he has kept in close touch with the local floral industry in all of its details

It was, therefore, perfectly natural for him in the prime of life to abandon manufacturing lines and embark in the business to which he is peculiarly adapted by every instinct and trained by habit.

LEEDLE CO.

SUPERINTENDENT

Geo. W. Rankin spent six years of his working career with what was then the largest floral concern in this vicinity; twelve years with the now largest; and, in keeping with his policy of connection with the most progressive floral company within his notice, now enters upon his second year with us.

His thorough experience in every detail of propagating, growing and packing, makes him fully familiar with the wants of both wholesale and retail trade in all parts of the world, and his expert supervision of our houses is an ample guarantee of satisfactory service to every buyer of our stock.

SECRETARY

Geo. D. Leedle has had a wide experience in matters pertaining to correspondence, mail orders and shipping, beginning in early youth by making the annual Spring order for the family supply of plants and seeds for his parents and accumulating a collection of all floral catalogues then published.

Owing to his special attention to the wants of each customer, dealings by mail will be conducted just as satisfactorily as though over a counter, and he will see to it that a sunflower shall not be substituted for a moonvine, or a pink rose for a yellow, but that every purchaser shall receive satisfaction and
